Revival Meeting At Church of Christ

Minister Paul C. Witt, of Abilene, will do the preaching in a revival meeting at the Church of Christ, beginning Sunday, September 6th.

Leonard Burford, Head of the Music Department of Abilene Christian College, will be in charge of the song services. He is one of West Texas' leading directors, and one interesting feature is the fact that he is blind. His soul is in his music, and those who hear him once will want to hear him again and again.

Minister Witt needs no introduction, as he has preached in Hamlin at various times for a number of years. He preaches the gospel straight and this too will cause constant attendance.

Services will be at 4:30 P. M. and 8:45 P. M. each day through Sunday, September 13. You are welcome at all times.

Drivers Licenses to Be Issued In Hamlin

Beginning Wednesday morning, September 9, 1942, I will issue drivers license in Hamlin every second and fourth Wednesday from 8:00 A. M. to 11:00 A. M.

Please give this announcement all the publicity you can in order that we may better serve the people in your community. (44tf)

Yours very truly,
Elbert W. Green, Examiner
Drivers License Division

Mrs. Frieda Schoemann left last week for New York and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to visit a sister, Mrs. Edward Blumenthal who was seriously ill and her son, Ernest Schoemann and family. She will likely be away several weeks.

Assistant County Attorney Is Named

Judge J. F. Lindsey of Anson, former County Judge and member of the Legislature, was named Assistant County Attorney Monday by County Attorney George Potts Hudson, to serve as his assistant during the absence of the County Attorney who has volunteered for military services.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled several weeks ago that with permission of the Commissioners Court, Mr. Hudson could name an Assistant County Attorney.

The Commissioners Court Monday granted Mr. Hudson a leave of absence for the duration and approved his appointment of Judge Lindsey as his assistant.

Among other business transacted by the Commissioners Court was the public hearing on the County budget for 1943, which was approved and the tax rate set by the Court at 64c, the same as last year. The Board of Equalization was adjourned and dissolved for the year of 1942.

Are You Responding?

An August quota of soldier's kit bags is being assembled for shipment by Jones County Red Cross Chapter. Officials are renewing their request for civic, church and social organizations to make pledges or donations toward filling these with stated items.

The kits go to each service man as he embarks for foreign shores. This is a token of some one's interest and concern in his personal welfare. Citizens who contribute their dollars to the Red Cross for filling kits may definitely know they have aided a warrior. Fifty kits monthly is Jones County Chapter's quota.

As work and war tempo of the nation increases, Red Cross officials are urging more and more women to assume duties in this governmental approved agency. Orientation talks will be given over the country at an early date to familiarize potential workers in branches of activities they may best fill.

F. M. Crow, (Pistol) as most people call him, has passed a civil service test for truck driver in the army. He reported to Sheppard Field Thursday morning. He has a son, Wilson Crow, in the navy, and another son, Maurice, who is listed 1-A. That's doing their part, don't you think? The civil service channel will take a lot of men, even women.

Hamlin Lions Hear Army Lieut. Colonel On Chemical Warfare

Tuesday the Hamlin Lions Club heard an unusual talk on Chemical Warfare, by Lieutenant Colonel Stanley E. Hartman, Chemical Warfare Officer of the 90th Division, Camp Berkeley. Col. Hartman was accompanied by Pfc. William C. Fonda, of the 315th Hdq. and Service Co. Engineers, and Corporal Sydney B. Maulden of the same C. W. Service.

These men had sample equipment and materials to illustrate and to teach citizens what is meant by Chemical Warfare. One of the first points made by the Col. was that we are in war, and war means that one side means to kill the other. Also that notwithstanding gas and poisonous chemicals are banned by international agreement, it is well to remember that our enemies have not yet been caught in a tight spot and have not needed to resort to a questionable method of killing. But he said it is so easy for them to use the forbidden stuff in their last emergency and that Our Nations are not going to be caught unprepared both for offense and defense.

After showing the Lions chemical-treated underwear, air-proof suits, gas masks, and letting them smell samples of the gases, and telling them how blisters and burns eat away eyes and skin, it was clear none of the Lions wanted in that part of the fight.

Col. Hartman stressed the fact that our men are so trained that they know how to protect themselves from gases and where poison has been scattered on weeds, grass, bushes and soil. They use gas-filled rooms to prove that with masks on they are safe.

These men made a deep impression on the Hamlin fellows and their invited guests.

Mrs. O. C. Newberry returned Monday from a trip to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where she went to see her son, Lt. Horace W. Newberry. When she got there he had been moved and she found him at Ft. Hamilton, N. Y. She had only a three hours visit with him. By now perhaps this young man is on the high seas. Mrs. Newberry found her son on Friday morning but had only a few words as he could not get off from pressing duties. But he told her maybe they could talk at 7 P. M. So it must have been a long Friday for the mother.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Butcher and Elizabeth returned Saturday night from Cushing, Okla., where they visited both of their parents for three weeks.

Three Years of War Has Passed

On the third anniversary of the day Germany invaded Poland and began the war in Europe, the Office of War Information announces the publication of a pamphlet, "The Thousand Million", which outlines the military strength and the backgrounds of the people of the United Nations.

"A better knowledge of what our friends and brothers-in-arms are doing, what they have suffered and what they are like will help them and us, not only now but in the days following victory. Through greater understanding, greater strength is achieved."

The pamphlet, which includes the texts of the Atlantic Charter and the Declaration by United Nations, was written by the staff of the Office of War Information from facts checked by the embassies and legations concerned. Especially prepared for the use of speakers and writers, the text may be quoted with or without acknowledgment.

In opening, the illustrated pamphlet reads: "These are the lands of the thousand million people—and more—our allies and our friends. The purpose of the articles that follow is to tell, in a few words, something about the thousand million and their 27 countries, pledged with us to fight in a great alliance against the Axis on all the continents and in all the seas."

"The thousand million live in tropic Caribbean ports, in Chinese mountain villages; in Britain's seaswept countryside and in the incredible vastness of Russia. They live in the darkened streets of Dutch and Polish, Czech and Belgian towns where the invader's sentry hammers at the door. . . . Our destiny is bound together by the Declaration by United Nations signed at Washington on New Year's Day, 1942. We are determined to win this war with the overwhelming might of our combined strength—and thereafter to establish a new age of freedom for all men on this earth."

"Victory will be won—and victory will be preserved afterward—only by strength of United Nations arms and the fighting spirit of the thousand million," the pamphlet states. "There is no other road to freedom."

The pamphlet emphasizes the fact that "in our united war it does not matter whether the cannon was made in Springfield or in Coventry or Melbourne. It does not matter whether it is fired by men from Liverpool or Kuibishov or Chungking. When the gun throws back the enemy's line in Russia, when the Nazi submarine is sunk, when the smashed Japanese plans come down, the cause of the United Nations is advanced: there is an increased promise of freedom for all peoples—everywhere in the world."

Copies of "The Thousand Million" may be obtained by writing to the Office of War Information, Washington.

JONES COUNTY PIONEERS CELEBRATE 50th. ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, August 30, 1942, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sauls, pioneer couple of Jones and Stonewall Counties celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home nine miles northwest of Hamlin.

Joseph Henry Sauls, age 74, native of Arkansas, and his wife, Lula Bell, age 70, who was Lula Bell Stickney of Coryell County, Texas, typical pioneers of the cow country, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, entertained some 200 friends and relatives with a chuck wagon dinner, ranch style, with all the trimmings, same as in the olden days under the fly to the chuck wagon near their home.

The occasion called for the help of some of the cowboys from nearby ranches, all the darkies on the place and the burning of many mesquite wood logs, which were used in barbecuing one of the prize white face yearlings, some goats and sheep, forty frying chickens and the brewing of many pots of black coffee, and of course "son-of-a-gun," cake and peach cobbler, made in great dish pans, and since the grand children were there, they had salad too.

There's something in the aroma of coffee cooking in the open, over a wood fire that will never be duplicated, not even in the swankiest hotel. The feeling of comradeship which was so keenly felt as adieus were said, and the sincere wish for many more years of peace and prosperity for this pioneer couple, who live to make things better for all who pass their way, will long be remembered.

Mrs. D. O. Sauls of Hamlin, Texas, and Mrs. C. H. Brown of Roswell, New Mexico, two of the bridesmaids who attended the wedding, were there.

This couple's five children, seven grand children and two great-grandchildren, with the exception of one grandson, Jack Sauls, who is a Sgt. in the United States Army on the West Coast, were present. The children: D. B. (Burl) Sauls, San Antonio, Texas; W. F. Sauls, Dumont, Texas; G. T. Sauls of Hamlin, Texas; Mrs. Pete Holcombe of Crowell, Texas; and Mrs. Allene Gray of Goldwaite, Texas.

Other out of town relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stickney and son, Midland, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gardner, Robert Lee, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Buchanan, Colorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hall, Stanton, Texas; Miss Clydene Stickney, Commerce, Texas; Miss Elsie Brown, Los Angeles, California; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. AND A LITTLE BIT OF

THE WAR—

As We See It,

This Monday, the general outlook in the world-wide war is much brighter.

To begin with, the number of ships sunk by the German and Italian U boats in the Western Hemisphere is far less than in many months. This is one of the best signs yet. A long time ago we said that the time would come when the United States would be in the war and the first main job would be to make safe all parts of the seas. That is fast being done.

The next step will be the gradual approach to key coast cities with air craft carriers, battleships, submarines, with more than enough planes to hold back all danger of ship sinkings. Once the waters around Europe or Japan are fairly safe, the invasion point will be near.

One of the best items of news this week is that Our planes go over—dump and blast the stuffing out of the enemy (on all fronts) and come back without a loss of a single plane.

The Japs are not going so well in the far-down Pacific. . . . In fact, they seem to be on their way back home. But let us not forget that Japan has millions of fighting men yet and all of them are pledged to die for their Emperor. The "inners" of Japan must be blasted before she becomes very sick. A wasp menace can't be stopped till the nest is downed.

Field Marshal Rommel is on the move again. He has been quiet on the desert sands for some time. In the meantime, American and English forces have also "come up" brighter and better. To this hour our prediction still is that old Rommel will be cut to bits and never get into Egypt.

Who is he that does not admire the Russians? The old Russians are doing heroic work to save their country. . . . and here's another guess. . . . they will never get all of the area about the Caspian Sea and the Caucasus Mountains. That territory must be held, like Egypt or else the Middle East will be taken.

As for the Foolish French, or Feeble French, something seems must be done about that dominated pest. We would talk bitterly about that bunch of people if they were not so helpless. Being sorry for them may cost us much yet. Why let Dakar fall into German hands? Why let the French Guiana remain a sore spot on the Western world? It is about time for Our Nations to quit holding back to keep from hurting somebody's feelings. The French have been placed under the Hitler heel and when they cry they sound off as Hitler desires.

Last minute flashes indicate that Hitler's hordes are still progressing towards Stalingrad on the Volga and it looks like they are going down to the Caspian Sea, and from the way things look somebody had better go help Russia.

The most astonishing thing about this Second German Spasm of war, is who would have thought they had the stuff to go so far?

Each day that this terrible carnage of death goes on ought to make the two-hundred million English-speaking peoples of the world vow to go down in death rather than let any nation rise again to make war on helpless neighbors. Americans alone can do the trick by getting rough on international murderers.

The type of future "diplomacy" should be frank, plain, quick open talk. If we have to be plunged into war every twenty or thirty years, and each time it is worse, let's right here and now declare a perpetual war on any nation that starts building anything to make war on somebody else. Blow the stuffing out of them as soon as they start building and the job will not be so hard.

Some soft heart will say, "Mr. Editor would you do that?" Yes, and we are ashamed that we did not clamor for this very plan to keep war down, twenty or twenty-five years ago. As long as we allow a small bunch of isolationists to hamper our country's safety, just so long will our boys have to die in defense of our freedom. Think of making a fuss about the death of one of those isolationist buzzards who helped to kill Woodrow Wilson, and started this country on a bloody path to war again! Their names should be arased from the pages of public records. Some of them are dead, some still live and lap their bloody tongues at everybody who would stand up for freedom. Let 'em die in silence and be forgotten.

Recruiting vs. Draft

There is a lot of useless confusion going on in this country. The Navy relies upon volunteer recruiting, and in many branches of the Army recruiting offices are in rivalry with the Navy. The Navy wanted 22 men out of Jones County in August, and got 16. In September they want 27. This would give about 3,600 Texas men in this month.

Now comes along various and sundry draft boards over the nation, some putting out this and others putting out that, all full of irregularities, creating disturbances of all kinds. In some counties of Texas long ago married men, men with children have been taken or allowed to volunteer (to pick their job). It seems that somebody should speak up and let the public know some facts and tell the Boards to keep quiet, or take control of newspapers who have a dozen conflicting articles in every issue. We believe the men of America are ready to respond for any kind of duty when called upon, but why have a situation that keeps them and their families always uncertain?

This is some more "piping in the wilderness" but somebody should pipe, even though it is deep in Texas.

Price of Natural Gas

Remains at Low Level

Lone Star Gas System has won first prize for the best gas utility advertisement published in the Southwest in 1941, according to word received by Will C. Grant, advertising director. The winning ad was written by Willard G. Wiegell, advertising manager for the company, and the award was made in the annual Better Copy Contest of the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

The ad, which appeared in this paper last December, was entitled "Up Goes the Cost of Living in the Parade of Rising Prices—But Natural Gas Remains Low in Price as It Has Throughout the Years!" It competed with many gas advertisements from other companies in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah, Kansas and Arizona. One paragraph from the ad stated:

"Up—Up—Up—go prices! Almost without exception, food, clothing, shelter, necessities and luxuries of all kinds, have zoomed to a new high. One by one even the most ordinary commodities have joined the ever increasing parade of rising prices to slash deeper and deeper into the family budget. However, there is one outstanding exception because the price you pay for natural gas service is still the same low rate you have paid for many years."

Grant pointed out that despite these constantly increased operating costs for delivering gas service to its customers, the company recently had voluntarily agreed to a reduction in gas rates amounting to more than two million dollars a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sellers of California arrived home Monday. Cecil has been working in the Lockheed Air Craft the past two years but now he is to join the Navy on September 7th. Mrs. Sellers will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shelburne at Garden City till the war is over.

Soldier Boy Writes To His Girl

(At Cedar Hill, Dallas County)

(From one of the fellows who is making the world safe for democracy.) QUOTE:

I fought and I fought and I fought; but I had to go anyway.

I was called in Class A (The next time I want to be in Class B . . . B there when they go and B there when they come back).

When I registered, I went up to a desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "Oh, you know my name?" WHAT'S YOUR NAME? He barked. So I told him "August Childs". He said, "Are you an Alien?" I said, "No, I feel fine". He asked me where I was born, and I said, "Pittsburg". Then he said, "When did you see the light of day?" I said, "When we moved to Philadelphia". He asked me how old I was, so I told him, "Twenty-three the first of September". He said, "The first day of September you will be in China, and that will be the last of August".

Then I went to camp and I guess they didn't think I'd live long. The first fellow I saw wrote on my card "Flying Corps". I went a little farther and some fellow said, "Look what the wind's blowing in". I said "Wind nothing, the draft's doing it".

On the second morning they put these clothes on me. What an outfit! As soon as you are in it you think you could fight anybody. They have two sizes—too small and too large. The pants were so tight I couldn't sit down. The shoes were so big I turned around three times and they didn't move. What a raincoat they gave me! It strained the rain. I passed an officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all that stuff. He said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice my uniform when you passed?" I said, "Yes. What are you kicking about—look what they gave me".

One morning when it was five degrees below zero, they called us out for an "underwear inspection." Talk about scenery—red flannels, B. V. D.'s; all kinds. The union suit I had on would fit Tony Galento. The Lieutenant lined us up and told us to stand up. I said, "I'm up sir, but this underwear makes me think I am sitting down". He got so mad he put me to digging a ditch. A little later he passed and said, "Don't throw that dirt up here". I said, "Where am I going to throw it?" He said, "Dig another hole and put it in there".

Three days later we sailed for Australia. Marching down the pier, I had the worst luck. I had a sergeant who stuttered and it took him so long to say "halt" that twenty-seven of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and lined us up upon the pier. The captain said, "Fall in". I said, "I have been in sir".

I was on the boat twelve days—seasick for twelve days. Nothing going down and everything coming up. Leaned over the rail all the way. One of my buddies passed by and said, "Boy, you must have a weak stomach". I said, "I don't know; seems like I'm throwing it as far as anybody". In the middle of one of my best leans, the captain rushed up and said, "What company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself, sir". He asked me if the Brigadier was up yet. I said, "If I swallowed it, it's up sir". Talk about your dumb people. I said to one of the fellows, "I guess we dropped the anchor." He replied, "I know they'll lose it. It's been hanging out ever since we left New York".

Well, we landed and were immediately put in the trenches. After three days there, the cannon started to roar and the shells started to pop. I was shaking with patriotism! I tried to hide behind a tree, but there weren't enough trees for the officers. The captain came around and said, "We go over the top at five o'clock." I said "I'd like to have a furlough". He said, "Haven't you any red blood in you?" I said, "Yes, but I don't want to see it".

At five o'clock we went over the top and ten thousand Japs came at us. The way they looked at me, you'd think I started the war. Our captain yelled, "Fire at will!" But I didn't know anybody named Will. I guess the fellow behind me thought I was "Will", because he fired his gun and shot me in the excitement.

"Wish I was back at Cedar Hill, Where I could rest, and eat and sleep,

Where no one thinks I am Will, There to dream and dream of you to keep".

So long, "Tot"

Sick Soils Have Effect on Animals

Earth Should Be 'Factories,' Not Mines

By DR. WILLIAM A. ALBRECHT
(Department of Soils, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.)

That sick soils will not build healthy animals any more than they will produce sturdy field crops is significant in view of our national tendency to combat soil erosion by allowing much of the fertility-depleted soil to go back to grass.

In place of giving attention to soil fertility measures that feed growing plants, we have too often adopted the practice of "crop hunting" in the mistaken belief that when one crop starves another can be found that will thrive on the same depleted land. But we can't breed crops against starvation any more than a sterile parent can transmit the character of sterility.

Evidences of declining soil fertility are seen in the greater number of deficiency diseases among our farm animals. Veterinarians are constantly faced with increasing cases of strange animal ailments for which no specific body weakness or visible physiological cause can be found. Eye ailments, a tendency to blindness, bad gait, rounded back lines, inferior condition, poor feeding progress, and even debility and death can be traced to deficiencies in animals' nutrition.

If newer legumes or non-legumes grow more successfully on less fertile land, then such crops must be taking less nutrient from the soil. Thus these crops can offer the animals that feed on them less of protein and of ash which, for animals the same as for plants, are the items drawn from the soil.

Animals Limited in Feeding.

Confined as they are, animals are limited in their feeding by the soil fertility of the farm. Supplements such as proteins contain too little of the minerals needed. And when animals protest by rooting up the very earth or climbing the fence in search of better forage, such actions are met by rings in the nose or cumbersome yokes about the neck. Human serfs have been prohibited in this country for about 75 years, but animal slaves can be seen on any trip through the country. Too often they are almost in a state of starvation because their master, the farm owner, neglects his soil fertility.

Our soils must become factories instead of continuing as mines from which the fertility is unendingly drawn. Raw materials such as limestone, phosphorus, potash, and other fertilizing elements, organic matter and other plant nutrients must go back into the soil. In our "soil factories" we must produce more usable nutrients for plant service. Such nutrients must not be hauled off unless equal amounts are restored.

Consumption of Fats, Oils

Recently the United States used approximately 6½ billion pounds of fats and oils in edible products; two billion in soaps, one billion in paints, varnishes, printing inks and linoleum products, and 0.5 billion was used for a variety of industrial purposes.

Cutting Costs

The department of agriculture is strongly urging partnership in use and purchase of equipment.

Two Floyd county, Texas, farmers have been showing their neighbors the value of this kind of joint action. These Farm Security administration borrowers first bought a tractor outfit together in 1940. Sharing the $1,030 outlay and the operating expenses proved to them the advantages of partnership. Their second enterprise was buying a pure-bred Jersey bull, which cost $150. Then they bought a seven-foot power-take-off mower, a feed mill mounted for transport, and a ground-driven row binder.

The two farmers say that the machinery they joined in buying saved their crops last fall. They figure that what they did as a common sense plan will have to be done by others from sheer necessity.

Urea for Growing Lambs

Farmers were told of tests in the laboratories of a university's division of animal nutrition in which the performance of growing lambs fed urea was compared with that of lambs fed diets containing such protein sources as soybean oil meal, casein, skim milk and corn gluten feed. With rations of a 12 per cent protein level, 50 per cent of the nitrogen as urea is as satisfactory a source of nitrogen as commonly used protein concentrates.

About Soldiers--Sailors

Hawaii, August 21, 1942

Dear Mr. Pope:

After so long a time I will try and drop you and my friends back at good old Hamlin a few lines to let you know I am feeling fine and still kicking. I have received three copies of my Herald since I have been here in the Hawaii Islands. Please continue mailing me the news here, for I probably will be here for some time to come yet. I look forward to getting The Herald. I never knew when I was back home that The Herald could mean so much to me until I got 4,000 miles away from home. It usually takes about 20 days for the paper to get to me here, as it is with all Hamlin mail. Hamlin is the best place in the world, however I am well pleased with the Hawaiian Islands. This oasis in the Pacific is truly a garden spot. The flowers are beautiful—gardens and orchards grow wild and are as beautiful as any that mainland florists can produce. It seems funny to see the girls wearing orchids in their hair, but it is also a pleasing sight. I have also eaten many delicious fruits such as mangroves, pineapples, bananas, etc.

Then of course there are coconuts. All things grow very well and in great abundance. I was very interested in seeing Bamboo in some form other than a fishing rod. A mighty peculiar bush, to say the least, I have been to Waikiki Beach. It is truly wonderful and has not been over advertised. I can understand now why the Hawaiian Islands have given us so many gay and romantic songs. The people who live here live a lazy and carefree life and to all outward appearances, a very happy people. The splendor of the Tropical moon and the beauty of a tropical island quite adequately takes care of that. Swimming is perfect here, as the water is always warm and at the same time refreshing. All in all since I must be away from Hamlin for a time, I am very happy that I was sent here. The only drawback is the mail situation. It has been very bad, but is some better now. I have some souvenirs I picked up in Pearl Harbor, including a piece of a Jap plane.

I am well pleased with my job here doing M. P. duty. There are two of my Hamlin friends here on the Islands. Mac Brundage and Leray LaBaume. I am looking forward to receiving my next copy of the Herald.

Corporal Charles Prater sent the Herald a V. . . . Mail letter this week. It was very long but occupied but little space. This was the first one for us to see. Charles says, among a lot of other interesting things, "The people over here (Australia) have been good to us. They treat us as if we were their own son or husbands and give us everything that we could want. Yet, there's no place like Hamlin to me. I have seen many interesting things but still like that little old town in West Texas. We will get them (he means the Japs) one of these days and then we will be on our way home." The Herald will give you some more of Charles' letter next week.

Marvin York Marries In Dallas

Miss Kathleen Alkire, 3225 Bryn Mawr Drive, granddaughter of Mrs. H. A. VanGordon of Ennis, became the bride of Marvin T. York, Jr., of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. York of Hamlin, Saturday evening at the Park Cities Baptist church.

Dr. R. Alton Reed performed the ceremony, and Miss Elizabeth VanGordon, organist, accompanied Mrs. J. Raymond Kelly, who sang, presiding over the service.

Against a background of Southern smilax, which decorated the altar, were placed French urns filled with white asters and white gladioli. White tapers in candelabra illuminated the setting.

C. H. Butts, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of regal satin with seed pearls outlining the sweetheart neckline. The full gathered skirt extended from a long fitted basque bodice into a full train. A halo of seed pearls held her veil of imported bridal illusion and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. Her colonial bouquet was made of white rosebuds and gardenias showered with white stephanotis.

Miss Jean Alkire, who was her sister's maid of honor, selected a classic gown of soft French blue with a fitted bodice of satin from which fell a full chiffon skirt in the same shade of blue. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis. Miss Margaret Alkire of Ennis, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Lou York of Hamlin, sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns similar to the maid's of honor.

James C. Cammack, Jr., was the best man, and the ushers were Morris A. Porter and G. Raymond Kelly of Freeport.

The bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butts, were hosts for a reception which was held at their home, 3225 Bryn Mawr Drive, immediately following the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at 5810 McCommas Street, after a wedding trip to New Orleans, La.

Mrs. York is a former student at TSCW and Mr. York is a graduate of the Hamlin High school, attended Baylor University where he received a degree in Business Administration, and Northwestern University, Chicago, where he received his M. A. He has been in the employment of the Gulf Petroleum Co. in Dallas since February, 1941.

Transportation Pools Requested

Program Planned Has Vital Double Purpose

The Office of Defense Transportation and the United States department of agriculture asked farmers throughout the country to co-operate in a comprehensive program for conservation and more efficient use of farm trucks and automobiles.

Because of the rubber shortage, the limited supply of new vehicles and the increasing scarcity of repair parts, farmers are urged to use their trucks and cars as little as possible.

The two government agencies recommended that farmers not only eliminate unnecessary driving but also form transportation pools both for hauling their produce to market and for transporting needed supplies to the farms.

Program's Double Aim.

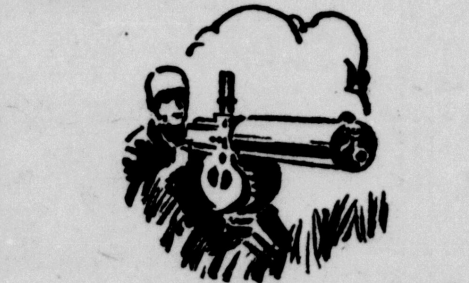

The program has the double aim of conserving vital equipment and assuring a continuous flow of farm commodities to market.

In a letter to state and county war boards urging the conservation of farm transportation facilities, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said: "The department is glad to co-operate in this program to the fullest extent, realizing that attainment of agricultural production goals will be meaningless unless there is assurance that essential farm products, when ready for market, can quickly be brought to processing, storage or consumption centers."

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said: "Farmers can assist in the nation-wide farm transportation program by avoiding trips to market with less than full loads wherever possible, and by making every possible effort to purchase their supplies at times when it will be possible to haul them to their farms on return trips."

Operators of farm trucks also are urged to follow the "preventive maintenance plan" of the ODT in order to prolong the life of such equipment as long as possible.

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

"We Are All In This War All The Way"

"We are all in this war all the way," President Roosevelt declared in his address to the nation, Dec. 9, 1941. "Every single man, woman and child is a partner in the most tremendous undertaking of our American history."

Since that statement was made, practically everyone has become aware of his partnership, as the various phases of the nation's war program have been developed.

Developments in the last week have brought a fuller realization on the Home Front.

Included was the War Manpower Commission's announcement that all able-bodied male students enrolling this month in colleges and universities are destined for the armed forces, and that all others must prepare themselves, physically and vocationally, for appropriate war service.

Responsibility for determining the specific training for students destined for the armed forces is a function of the Army and Navy. The War Manpower Commission will develop plans for guidance of those who serve in other capacities.

In addition to students, all sound and physically fit men face the possibility of being called into Selective Service. And, to keep war production and essential civilian industry going, their places must be filled by women, older men, and those whose military usefulness is slight.

To our mobilization of manpower and womanpower, the nation also is about to add the mobilization of youth and children. The National Institute on Education has called upon educators from all parts of the country to consider the most effective way to make use of all the students in the country, from elementary grades through college.

Milton (Squab) Wilson and wife were here last week for a short stay before leaving Saturday for Bremerton, Washington State. Squab has been in the Houston Shipyards the past five months. He is getting an advanced job in the same work at Bremerton.

Are you entitled to wear a target lapel button?

You can ONLY if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds to do your part on the home front toward winning the War.

The target lapel button is a badge of patriotism, a badge of honor. You should feel proud to display it. The buttons are obtainable at your plant management, at the office of your local War Bond chairman, or at your Payroll Savings Window where you authorize your ten percent payroll deductions.

Enlist in the ten percent War Bond army and do your part to win the War.

Peanut Oil Becomes U. S. Weapon

Almost five million acres of peanuts—twice as many as were produced in any single year before! That's one of the contributions U. S. farmers are making this year toward keeping this Nation at its maximum hitting power. Most of these peanuts will go into oil—oil from which thousands of necessary items for both civilian and military purposes can be made. This chemist and hundreds of others are busy finding and improving these new and potent uses for peanut oil.

O-O-O

The Agricultural situation in the United States is very important, and that we may become more familiar with our farm and ranch situation, we give you the following statistics: Expansion in the cattle industry is slowing down. Whereas, the number of cattle and calves had increased by more than 3 million head in each of the last two years, the largest number of cattle and calves on record—approximately 77 million head, as compared with 75 million at the beginning of 1942. Much of the increase will be in the great Plains. The 1942 calf crop was probably the largest on record—approximately 32 million head. 26 million cattle and calves were slaughtered in 1941, and it is expected that 28 million will be slaughtered in 1942.

Sixty-two million pigs were produced in the United States this spring and a fall crop of 43.5 million additional was indicated by the June pig survey. The Federal Government is buying a large part of the current output of hog products for military use and lend-lease export.

Half way point has been passed in 1942 milk production with an unprecedented output of more than 62 billion pounds during the first six months. Farmers will likely receive a higher average of prices for all milk sold during the last half of 1942 than in the like period last year. June crops indicated a larger crop of oats and barley this year than last. Poultrymen are well advanced toward a production goal of more than 50 billion eggs this year. The official estimate of cotton acreage on July 1 was 24,005,000 acres verifying indications that plantings would be somewhat larger this year than last. A National wheat allotment of 55 million acres for harvest in 1943 was announced last month under provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Lamb prices last June were the highest since 1939. June reports indicated that the total output of fruits is likely to be moderately above average, and that prospects for vegetable crops have improved.

10 Percent of Your Income in War Bonds

The attractive red, white and blue window sticker, pictured above, is the new yardstick of patriotism in the War Bond drive throughout the nation. With the slogan, "Everybody every pay day, ten percent," sweeping the country, patriotic Americans on the home front are rallying to their Government's appeal for funds with which to help finance the war. The home which displays the "ten percent" sticker is doing its share toward Victory for America and the United Nations. The stickers are being distributed through local War Savings Chairmen.

The above statistics and information are somewhat in a condensed form, but we hope it will be of benefit to the readers of this column, and remember folks, we must all work and produce in order to win this war.

Revival Meeting At Church of Christ

Minister Paul C. Witt, of Abilene, will do the preaching in a revival meeting at the Church of Christ, beginning Sunday, September 6th.

Leonard Burford, Head of the Music Department of Abilene Christian College, will be in charge of the song services. He is one of West Texas' leading directors, and one interesting feature is the fact that he is blind. His soul is in his music, and those who hear him once will want to hear him again and again.

Minister Witt needs no introduction, as he has preached in Hamlin at various times for a number of years. He preaches the gospel straight and this too will cause constant attendance.

Services will be at 4:30 P. M. and 8:45 P. M. each day through Sunday, September 13. You are welcome at all times.

Assistant County Attorney Is Named

Judge J. F. Lindsey of Anson, former County Judge and member of the Legislature, was named Assistant County Attorney Monday by County Attorney George Potts Hudson, to serve as his assistant during the absence of the County Attorney who has volunteered for military services.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann ruled several weeks ago that with permission of the Commissioners Court, Mr. Hudson could name an Assistant County Attorney.

The Commissioners Court Monday granted Mr. Hudson a leave of absence for the duration and approved his appointment of Judge Lindsey as his assistant.

Among other business transacted by the Commissioners Court was the public hearing on the County budget for 1943, which was approved and the tax rate set by the Court at 64c, the same as last year. The Board of Equalization was adjourned and dissolved for the year of 1942.

An August quota of soldier's kit bags is being assembled for shipment by Jones County Red Cross Chapter. Officials are renewing their request for civic, church and social organizations to make pledges or donations toward filling these with stated items.

The kits go to each service man as he embarks for foreign shores. This is a token of some one's interest and concern in his personal welfare. Citizens who contribute their dollars to the Red Cross for filling kits may definitely know they have aided a warrior. Fifty kits monthly is Jones County Chapter's quota.

As work and war tempo of the nation increases, Red Cross officials are urging more and more women to assume duties in this governmental approved agency. Orientation talks will be given over the country at an early date to familiarize potential workers in branches of activities they may best fill.

F. M. Crow, (Pistol) as most people call him, has passed a civil service test for truck driver in the army. He reported to Sheppard Field Thursday morning. He has a son, Wilson Crow, in the navy, and another son, Maurice, who is listed 1-A. That's doing their part, don't you think? The civil service channel will take a lot of men, even women.

Hamlin Lions Hear Army Lieut. Colonel On Chemical Warfare

Tuesday the Hamlin Lions Club heard an unusual talk on Chemical Warfare, by Lieutenant Colonel Stanley E. Hartman, Chemical Warfare Officer of the 90th Division, Camp Berkeley. Col. Hartman was accompanied by Pfc. William C. Fonda, of the 315th Hdq. and Service Co. Engineers, and Corporal Sydney B. Maulden of the same C. W. Service.

These men had sample equipment and materials to illustrate and to teach citizens what is meant by Chemical Warfare. One of the first points made by the Col. was that we are in war, and war means that one side means to kill the other. Also that notwithstanding gas and poisonous chemicals are banned by international agreement, it is well to remember that our enemies have not yet been caught in a tight spot and have not needed to resort to a questionable method of killing. But he said it is so easy for them to use the forbidden stuff in their last emergency and that Our Nations are not going to be caught unprepared both for offense and defense.

After showing the Lions chemicaly treated underwear, air-proof suits, gas masks, and letting them smell samples of the gases, and telling them how blisters and burns eat away eyes and skin, it was clear none of the Lions wanted in that part of the fight.

Col. Hartman stressed the fact that our men are so trained that they know how to protect themselves from gases and where poison has been scattered on weeds, grass, bushes and soil. They use gas-filled rooms to prove that with masks on they are safe.

These men made a deep impression on the Hamlin fellows and their invited guests.

Mrs. O. C. Newberry returned Monday from a trip to Ft. Monmouth, N. J., where she went to see her son, Lt. Horace W. Newberry. When she got there he had been moved and she found him at Ft. Hamilton, N. Y. She had only a three hours visit with him. By now perhaps this young man is on the high seas. Mrs. Newberry found her son on Friday morning but had only a few words as he could not get off from pressing duties. But he told her maybe they could talk at 7 P. M. So it must have been a long Friday for the mother.

Three Years of War Has Passed

On the third anniversary of the day Germany invaded Poland and began the war in Europe, the Office of War Information announces the publication of a pamphlet, "The Thousand Million", which outlines the military strength and the backgrounds of the people of the United Nations.

"A better knowledge of what our friends and brothers-in-arms are doing, what they have suffered and what they are like will help them and us, not only now but in the days following victory. Through greater understanding, greater strength is achieved."

The pamphlet, which includes the texts of the Atlantic Charter and the Declaration by United Nations, was written by the staff of the Office of War Information from facts checked by the embassies and legations concerned. Especially prepared for the use of speakers and writers, the text may be quoted with or without acknowledgment.

In opening, the illustrated pamphlet reads: "These are the lands of the thousand million people—and more—our allies and our friends. The purpose of the articles that follow is to tell, in a few words, something about the thousand million and their 27 countries, pledged with us to fight in a great alliance against the Axis on all the continents and in all the seas."

"The thousand million live in tropic Caribbean ports, in Chinese mountain villages; in Britain's sea-swept countryside and in the incredible vastness of Russia. They live in the darkened streets of Dutch and Polish, Czech and Belgian towns where the invader's sentry hammers at the door... Our destiny is bound together by the Declaration by United Nations signed at Washington on New Year's Day, 1942. We are determined to win this war with the overwhelming might of our combined strength—and thereafter to establish a new age of freedom for all men on this earth."

"Victory will be won—and victory will be preserved afterward—only by strength of United Nations arms and the fighting spirit of the thousand million," the pamphlet states. "There is no other road to freedom."

The pamphlet emphasizes the fact that "in our united war it does not matter whether the cannon was made in Springfield or in Coventry or Melbourne. It does not matter whether it is fired by men from Liverpool or Kuibishov or Chungking. When the gun throws back the enemy's line in Russia, when the Nazi submarine is sunk, when the smashed Japanese plans comes down, the cause of the United Nations is advanced: there is an increased promise of freedom for all peoples—everywhere in the world."

Copies of "The Thousand Million" may be obtained by writing to the Office of War Information, Washington.

JONES COUNTY PIONEERS CELEBRATE 50th. ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, August 30, 1942, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sauls, pioneer couple of Jones and Stonewall Counties celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home nine miles northwest of Hamlin.

Joseph Henry Sauls, age 74, native of Arkansas, and his wife, Lula Bell, age 70, who was Lula Bell Stickney of Coryell County, Texas, typical pioneers of the cow country, in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary, entertained some 200 friends and relatives with a chuck wagon dinner, ranch style, with all the trimmings, same as in the olden days under the fly to the chuck wagon near their home.

The occasion called for the help of some of the cowboys from nearby ranches, all the daddies on the place and the burning of many mesquite wood logs, which were used in barbecuing one of the prize white face yearlings, some goats and sheep, forty frying chickens and the brewing of many pots of black coffee, and of course "son-of-a-gun," cake and peach cobbler, made in great dish pans, and since the grand children were there, they had salad too.

There's something in the aroma of coffee cooking in the open, over a wood fire that will never be duplicated, not even in the swankiest hotel. The feeling of comradeship which was so keenly felt as adieus were said, and the sincere wish for many more years of peace and prosperity for this pioneer couple, who live to make things better for all who pass their way, will long be remembered.

Mrs. D. O. Sauls of Hamlin, Texas, and Mrs. C. H. Brown of Roswell, New Mexico, two of the bridesmaids who attended the wedding, were there.

This couple's five children, seven grand children and two great-grandchildren, with the exception of one grandson, Jack Sauls, who is a Sgt. in the United States Army on the West Coast, were present. The children: D. B. (Burl) Sauls, San Antonio, Texas; W. F. Sauls, Dumont, Texas; G. T. Sauls of Hamlin, Texas; Mrs. Pete Holcombe of Crowell, Texas; and Mrs. Allene Gray of Goldwaite, Texas.

Other out of town relatives and friends: Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stickney and son, Midland, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Gardner, Robert Lee, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Buchanan, Colorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hall, Stanton, Texas; Miss Clydene Stickney, Commerce, Texas; Miss Elsie Brown, Los Angeles, California; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sauls, Grandbury, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. G. Gribble, Crowell, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Black, Lubbock, Texas; Frank Eury, Dumont, Texas; Glider Pilot Franklin D. Stickney, U. S. THE WAR—

As We See It,

This Monday, the general outlook in the world-wide war is much brighter.

To begin with, the number of ships sunk by the German and Italian U boats in the Western Hemisphere is far less than in many months. This is one of the best signs yet. A long time ago we said that the time would come when the United States would be in the war and the first main job would be to make safe all parts of the seas. That is fast being done.

The next step will be the gradual approach to key coast cities with air craft carriers, battleships, submarines, with more than enough planes to hold back all danger of ship sinkings. Once the waters around Europe or Japan are fairly safe, the invasion point will be near.

One of the best items of news this week is that Our planes go over—dump and blast the stuffing out of the enemy (on all fronts) and come back without a loss of a single plane.

The Japs are not going so well in the far-distant Pacific. . . . In fact, they seem to be on their way back home. But let us not forget that Japan has millions of fighting men yet and all of them are pledged to die for their Emperor. The "inners" of Japan must be blasted before she becomes very sick. A wasp menace can't be stopped till the nest is downed.

Field Marshal Rommel is on the move again. He has been quiet on the desert sands for some time. In the meantime, American and English forces have also "come up" brighter and better. To this hour our prediction still is that old Rommel will be cut to bits and never get into Egypt.

Who is he that does not admire the Russians? The old Russians are doing heroic work to save their country . . . and here's another guess . . . they will never get all of the area about the Caspian Sea and the Caucasus Mountains. That territory must be held, like Egypt or else the Middle East will be taken.

As for the Foolish French, or Feeble French, something seems must be done about that dominated pest. We would talk bitterly about that bunch of people if they were not so helpless. Being sorry for them may cost us much yet. Why let Dakar fall into German hands? Why let the French Guiana remain a sore spot on the Western world? It is about time for Our Nations to quit holding back to keep from hurting somebody's feelings. The French have been placed under the Hitler heel and when they cry they sound off as Hitler desires.

Last minute flashes indicate that Hitler's hordes are still progressing towards Stalingrad on the Volga and it looks like they are going down to the Caspian Sea, and from the way things look somebody had better go help Russia.

The most astonishing thing about this Second German Spasm of war, is who would have thought they had the stuff to go so far?

Each day that this terrible carnage of death goes on ought to make the two-hundred million English-speaking peoples of the world vow to go down in death rather than let any nation rise again to make war on helpless neighbors. Americans alone can do the trick by getting rough on international murderers.

The type of future "diplomacy" should be frank, plain, quick open talk. If we have to be plunged into war every twenty or thirty years, and each time it is worse, let's right here and now declare a perpetual war on any nation that starts building anything to make war on somebody else. Blow the stuffing out of them as soon as they start building and the job will not be so hard.

Some soft heart will say, "Mr. Editor would you do that?" Yes, and we are ashamed that we did not clamor for this very plan to keep war down, twenty or twenty-five years ago. As long as we allow a small bunch of isolationists to hamper our country's safety, just so long will our boys have to die in defense of our freedom. Think of making a fuss about the death of one of those isolation buzzards who helped to kill Woodrow Wilson, and started this country on a bloody path to war again! Their names should be arased from the pages of public records. Some of them are dead, some still live and lap their bloody tongues at everybody who would stand up for freedom. Let 'em die in silence and be forgotten.

—I & T—

Recruiting vs. Draft

There is a lot of useless confusion going on in this country. The Navy relies upon volunteer recruiting, and in many branches of the Army recruiting offices are in rivalry with the Navy. The Navy wanted 22 men out of Jones County in August, and got 16. In September they want 27. This would give about 3,600 Texas men in this month.

Now comes along various and sundry draft boards over the nation, some putting out this and others putting out that, all full of irregularities, creating disturbances of all kinds. In some counties of Texas long ago married men, men with children have been taken or allowed to volunteer (to pick their job). It seems that somebody should speak up and let the public know some facts and tell the Boards to keep quiet, or take control of newspapers who have a dozen conflicting articles in every issue. We believe the men of America are ready to respond for any kind of duty when called upon, but why have a situation that keeps them and their families always uncertain?

This is some more "piping in the wilderness" but somebody should pipe, even though it is deep in Texas.

Price of Natural Gas

Remains at Low Level

Lone Star Gas System has won first prize for the best gas utility advertisement published in the Southwest in 1941, according to word received by Will C. Grant, advertising director. The winning ad was written by Willard G. Wiegell, advertising manager for the company, and the award was made in the annual Better Copy Contest of the Public Utilities Advertising Association.

The ad, which appeared in this paper last December, was entitled "Up Goes the Cost of Living in the Parade of Rising Prices—But Natural Gas Remains Low in Price as It Has Throughout the Years!" It competed with many gas advertisements from other companies in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, Utah, Kansas and Arizona. One paragraph from the ad stated:

"Up—Up—Up—go prices! Almost without exception, food, clothing, shelter, necessities and luxuries of all kinds, have zoomed to a new high. One by one even the most ordinary commodities have joined the ever increasing parade of rising prices to slash deeper and deeper into the family budget. However, there is one outstanding exception because the price you pay for natural gas service is still the same low rate you have paid for many years."

Grant pointed out that despite these constantly increased operating costs for delivering gas service to its customers, the company recently had voluntarily agreed to a reduction in gas rates amounting to more than two million dollars a year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sellers of California arrived home Monday. Cecil has been working in the Lockheed Air Craft the past two years but now he is to join the Navy on September 7th. Mrs. Sellers will make her home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sheldburne at Garden City till the war is over.

Soldier Boy Writes To His Girl

(At Cedar Hill, Dallas County)

(From one of the fellows who is making the world safe for democracy). QUOTE:

I fought and I fought and I fought; but I had to go anyway.

I was called in Class A (The next time I want to be in Class B . . . B there when they go and B there when they come back).

When I registered, I went up to a desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "Oh, you know my name". WHAT'S YOUR NAME?" he barked. So I told him "August Childs". He said, "Are you an Alien?" I said, "No, I feel fine". He asked me where I was born, and I said, "Pittsburg". Then he said, "When did you see the light of day?" I said, "When we moved to Philadelphia". He asked me how old I was, so I told him, "Twenty-three the first of September". He said, "The first day of September you will be in China, and that will be the last of August".

Then I went to camp and I guess they didn't think I'd live long. The first fellow I saw wrote on my card "Flying Corps". I went a little farther and some fellow said, "Look what the wind's blowing in". I said "Wind nothing, the draft's doing it".

On the second morning they put these clothes on me. What an outfit! As soon as you are in it you think you could fight anybody. They have two sizes—too small and too large. The pants were so tight I couldn't sit down. The shoes were so big I turned around three times and they didn't move. What a raincoat they gave me! It strained the rain. I passed an officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all that stuff. He said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice my uniform when you passed?" I said, "Yes. What are you kicking about—look what they gave me".

One morning when it was five degrees below zero, they called us out for an "underwear inspection." Talk about scenery—red flannels, B. V. D.'s; all kinds. The union suit I had on would fit Tony Galento. The Lieutenant lined us up and told us to stand up. I said, "I'm up sir, but this underwear makes me think I am sitting down". He got so mad he put me to digging a ditch. A little later he passed and said, "Don't throw that dirt up here". I said, "Where am I going to throw it?" He said, "Dig another hole and put it in there".

Three days later we sailed for Australia. Marching down the pier, I had the worst luck. I had a sergeant who stuttered and it took him so long to say "halt" that twenty-seven of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and lined us up upon the pier. The captain said, "Fall in". I said, "I have been in sir".

I was on the boat twelve days—seasick for twelve days. Nothing going down and everything coming up. Leaned over the rail all the way. One of my buddies passed by and said, "Boy, you must have a weak stomach". I said, "I don't know; seems like I'm throwing it as far as anybody". In the middle of one of my best leans, the captain rushed up and said, "What company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself, sir". He asked me if the Brigadier was up yet. I said, "If I swallowed it, it's up sir". Talk about your dumb people. I said to one of the fellows, "I guess we dropped the anchor." He replied, "I know they'll lose it. It's been hanging out ever since we left New York".

Well, we landed and were immediately put in the trenches. After three days there, the cannon started to roar and the shells started to pop. I was shaking with patriotism! I tried to hide behind a tree, but there weren't enough trees for the officers. The captain came around and said, "We go over the top at five o'clock." I said "I'd like to have a furlough". He said, "Haven't you any red blood in you?" I said, "Yes, but I don't want to see it."

At five o'clock we went over the top and ten thousand Japs came at us. The way they looked at me, you'd think I started the war. Our captain yelled, "Fire at will!" But I didn't know anybody named Will. I guess the fellow behind me thought I was "Will", because he fired his gun and shot me in the excitement.

"Wish I was back at Cedar Hill, Where I could rest, and eat and sleep,

Where no one thinks I am Will, There to dream and dream of you to keep".

So long, "Tot"

Sick-Soils Have Effect on Animals

Earth Should Be 'Factories,' Not Mines

By DR. WILLIAM A. ALBRECHT
(Department of Soils, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri.)

That sick soils will not build healthy animals any more than they will produce sturdy field crops is significant in view of our national tendency to combat soil erosion by allowing much of the fertility-depleted soil to go back to grass.

In place of giving attention to soil fertility measures that feed growing plants, we have too often adopted the practice of "crop hunting" in the mistaken belief that when one crop starves another can be found that will thrive on the same depleted land. But we can't breed crops against starvation any more than a sterile parent can transmit the character of sterility.

Evidences of declining soil fertility are seen in the greater number of deficiency diseases among our farm animals. Veterinarians are constantly faced with increasing cases of strange animal ailments for which no specific body weakness or visible physiological cause can be found. Eye ailments, a tendency to blindness, bad gait, rounded back lines, inferior condition, poor feeding progress, and even debility and death can be traced to deficiencies in animals' nutrition.

If newer legumes or non-legumes grow more successfully on less fertile land, then such crops must be taking less nutrient from the soil. Thus these crops can offer the animals that feed on them less of protein and of ash which, for animals the same as for plants, are the items drawn from the soil.

Animals Limited in Feeding.

Confined as they are, animals are limited in their feeding by the soil fertility of the farm. Supplements such as proteins contain too little of the minerals needed. And when animals protest by rooting up the very earth or climbing the fence in search of better forage, such actions are met by rings in the nose or cumbersome yokes about the neck. Human serfs have been prohibited in this country for about 75 years, but animal slaves can be seen on any trip through the country. Too often they are almost in a state of starvation because their master, the farm owner, neglects his soil fertility.

Our soils must become factories instead of continuing as mines from which the fertility is unendingly drawn. Raw materials such as limestone, phosphorus, potash, and other fertilizing elements, organic matter and other plant nutrients must go back into the soil. In our "soil factories" we must produce more usable nutrients for plant service. Such nutrients must not be hauled off unless equal amounts are restored.

Consumption of Fats, Oils

Recently the United States used approximately 6½ billion pounds of fats and oils in edible products; two billion in soaps, one billion in paints, varnishes, printing inks and linoleum products, and 0.5 billion was used for a variety of industrial purposes.

Cutting Costs

The department of agriculture is strongly urging partnership in use and purchase of equipment.

Two Floyd county, Texas, farmers have been showing their neighbors the value of this kind of joint action. These Farm Security administration borrowers first bought a tractor outfit together in 1940. Sharing the $1,030 outlay and the operating expenses proved to them the advantages of partnership. Their second enterprise was buying a pure-bred Jersey bull, which cost $150. Then they bought a seven-foot power-take-off mower, a feed mill mounted for transport, and a ground-driven row binder.

The two farmers say that the machinery they joined in buying saved their crops last fall. They figure that what they did as a common sense plan will have to be done by others from sheer necessity.

Urea for Growing Lambs

Farmers were told of tests in the laboratories of a university's division of animal nutrition in which the performance of growing lambs fed urea was compared with that of lambs fed diets containing such protein sources as soybean oil meal, casein, skim milk and corn gluten feed. With rations of a 12 per cent protein level, 50 per cent of the nitrogen as urea is as satisfactory a source of nitrogen as commonly used protein concentrates.

About Soldiers--Sailors

Hawaii, August 21, 1942

Dear Mr. Pope:

After so long a time I will try and drop you and my friends back at good old Hamlin a few lines to let you know I am feeling fine and still kicking. I have received three copies of my Herald since I have been here in the Hawaiian Islands. Please continue mailing me the news here, for I probably will be here for some time to come yet. I look forward to getting The Herald. I never knew when I was back home that The Herald could mean so much to me until I got 4,000 miles away from home. It usually takes about 20 days for the paper to get to me here, as it is with all Hamlin mail. Hamlin is the best place in the world, however I am well pleased with the Hawaiian Islands. This oasis in the Pacific is truly a garden spot. The flowers are beautiful—gardens and orchards grow wild and are as beautiful as any that mainland florists can produce. It seems funny to see the girls wearing orchids in their hair, but it is also a pleasing sight. I have also eaten many delicious fruits such as mangroves, pineapples, bananas, etc.

Then of course there are coconuts. All things grow very well and in great abundance. I was very interested in seeing Bamboo in some form other than a fishing rod. A mighty peculiar bush, to say the least, I have been to Waikiki Beach. It is truly wonderful and has not been over advertised. I can understand now why the Hawaiian Islands have given us so many gay and romantic songs. The people who live here live a lazy and carefree life and to all outward appearances, a very happy people. The splendor of the Tropical moon and the beauty of a tropical island quite adequately takes care of that. Swimming is perfect here, as the water is always warm and at the same time refreshing. All in all since I must be away from Hamlin for a time, I am very happy that I was sent here. The only drawback is the mail situation. It has been very bad, but is some better now. I have some souvenirs I picked up in Pearl Harbor, including a piece of a Jap plane.

I am well pleased with my job here doing M. P. duty. There are two of my Hamlin friends here on the Islands. Mac Brundage and Leray LaBaume. I am looking forward to receiving my next copy of the Herald.

Corporal Charles Prater sent the Herald a V . . . - Mail letter this week. It was very long but occupied but little space. This was the first one for us to see. Charles says, among a lot of other interesting things, "The people over here (Australia) have been good to us. They treat us as if we were their own son or husbands and give us everything that we could want. Yet, there's no place like Hamlin to me. I have seen many interesting things but still like that little old town in West Texas. We will get them (he means the Japs) one of these days and then we will be on our way home." The Herald will give you some more of Charles' letter next week.

Marvin York Marries In Dallas

Miss Kathleen Alkire, 3225 Bryn Mawr Drive, granddaughter of Mrs. H. A. VanGordon of Ennis, became the bride of Marvin T. York, Jr., of Dallas, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. York of Hamlin, Saturday evening at the Park Cities Baptist church.

Dr. R. Alton Reed performed the ceremony, and Miss Elizabeth VanGordon, organist, accompanied Mrs. Raymond Kelly, who sang, preceding the service.

Against a background of Southern smilax, which decorated the altar, were placed French urns filled with white asters and white gladioli. White tapers in candelabra illuminated the setting.

C. H. Butts, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of regal satin with seed pearls outlining the sweetheart neckline. The full gathered skirt extended from a long fitted bodice into a full train. A halo of seed pearls held her veil of imported bridal illusion and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. Her colonial bouquet was made of white rosebuds and gardenias showered with white stephanotis.

Miss Jean Alkire, who was her sister's maid of honor, selected a classic gown of soft French blue with a fitted bodice of satin from which fell a full chiffon skirt in the same shade of blue. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis. Miss Margaret Alkire, of Ennis, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Lou York of Hamlin, sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns similar to the maid's of honor.

James C. Cammack, Jr., was the best man, and the ushers were Morris A. Porter and G. Raymond Kelly of Freeport.

The bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Butts, were hosts for a reception which was held at their home, 3225 Bryn Mawr Drive, immediately following the ceremony.

The couple will be at home at 5810 McCommas Street, after a wedding trip to New Orleans, La.

Mrs. York is a former student at TSCW and Mr. York is a graduate of the Hamlin High school, attended Baylor University where he received a degree in Business Administration, and Northwestern University, Chicago, where he received his M. A. He has been in the employment of the Gulf Petroleum Co. in Dallas since February, 1941.

Transportation Pools Requested

Program Planned Has Vital Double Purpose

The Office of Defense Transportation and the United States department of agriculture asked farmers throughout the country to co-operate in a comprehensive program for conservation and more efficient use of farm trucks and automobiles.

Because of the rubber shortage, the limited supply of new vehicles and the increasing scarcity of repair parts, farmers are urged to use their trucks and cars as little as possible.

The two government agencies recommended that farmers not only eliminate unnecessary driving but also form transportation pools both for hauling their produce to market and for transporting needed supplies to the farms.

Program's Double Aim.

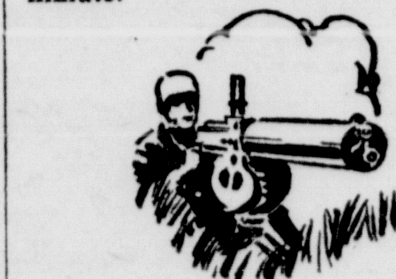

The program has the double aim of conserving vital equipment and assuring a continuous flow of farm commodities to market.

In a letter to state and county war boards urging the conservation of farm transportation facilities, Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said: "The department is glad to co-operate in this program to the fullest extent, realizing that attainment of agricultural production goals will be meaningless unless there is assurance that essential farm products, when ready for market, can quickly be brought to processing, storage or consumption centers."

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said: "Farmers can assist in the nation-wide farm transportation program by avoiding trips to market with less than full loads wherever possible, and by making every possible effort to purchase their supplies at times when it will be possible to haul them to their farms on return trips."

Operators of farm trucks also are urged to follow the "preventive maintenance plan" of the ODT in order to prolong the life of such equipment as long as possible.

The 50-caliber Browning machine gun is one of the most efficient short range weapons used by U. S. Fighting forces. It is effective at ranges up to 2,000 yards and fires about 600 forty-five caliber bullets per minute.

One of these guns costs about $1,500, while a thirty-caliber machine gun costs approximately $600. Our fighting forces need thousands of these rapid-fire guns. Even a small town or community can buy many of them by uniting in the purchase of War Bonds. At least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every pay day will do the trick.

"We Are All In This War All The Way"

"We are all in this war all the way," President Roosevelt declared in his address to the nation, Dec. 9, 1941. "Every single man, woman and child is a partner in the most tremendous undertaking of our American history."

Since that statement was made, practically everyone has become aware of his partnership, as the various phases of the nation's war program have been developed.

Developments in the last week have brought a fuller realization on the Home Front.

Included was the War Manpower Commission's announcement that all able-bodied male students enrolling this month in colleges and universities are destined for the armed forces, and that all others must prepare themselves, physically and vocationally, for appropriate war service.

Responsibility for determining the specific training for students destined for the armed forces is a function of the Army and Navy. The War Manpower Commission will develop plans for guidance of those who serve in other capacities.

In addition to students, all sound and physically fit men face the possibility of being called into Selective Service. And, to keep war production and essential civilian industry going, their places must be filled by women, older men, and those whose military usefulness is slight.

To our mobilization of manpower and womanpower, the nation also is about to add the mobilization of youth and children. The National Institute on Education has called upon educators from all parts of the country to consider the most effective way to make use of all the students in the country, from elementary grades through college.

Are you entitled to wear a target lapel button?

You can ONLY if you are investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds to do your part on the home front toward winning the War.

The target lapel button is a badge of patriotism, a badge of honor. You should feel proud to display it. The buttons are obtainable at your plant management, at the office of your local War Bond chairman, or at your Payroll Savings Window where you authorize your ten percent payroll deductions.

Enlist in the ten percent War Bond army and do your part to win the War.

Peanut Oil Becomes U. S. Weapon

Almost five million acres of peanuts—twice as many as were produced in any single year before! That's one of the contributions U. S. farmers are making this year toward keeping this Nation at its maximum hitting power. Most of these peanuts will go into oil—oil from which thousands of necessary items for both civilian and military purposes can be made. This chemist and hundreds of others are busy finding and improving these new and potent uses for peanut oil.

O-O-O

The Agricultural situation in the United States is very important, and that we may become more familiar with our farm and ranch situation, we give you the following statistics: Expansion in the cattle industry is slowing down. Whereas, the number of cattle and calves had increased by more than 3 million head in each of the last two years. The largest number of cattle and calves on record—approximately 77 million head, as compared with 75 million at the beginning of 1942. Much of the increase will be in the great Plains. The 1942 calf crop was probably the largest on record—approximately 32 million head. 26 million cattle and calves were slaughtered in 1941, and it is expected that 28 million will be slaughtered in 1942.

Sixty-two million pigs were produced in the United States this spring and a fall crop of 43.5 million additional was indicated by the June pig survey. The Federal Government is buying a large part of the current output of hog product, for military use and lend-lease export.

Half way point has been passed in 1942 milk production with an unprecedented output of more than 62 billion pounds during the first six months. Farmers will likely receive

Let Everybody Know You're Investing
10 Percent of Your Income in War Bonds

The attractive red, white and blue window sticker, pictured above, is the new yardstick of patriotism in the War Bond drive throughout the nation. With the slogan, "Everybody every pay day, ten percent," sweeping the country, patriotic Americans on the home front are rallying to their Government's appeal for funds with which to help finance the war. The home which displays the "ten percent" sticker is doing its share toward Victory for America and the United Nations. The stickers are being distributed through local War Savings Chairmen.

vanced toward a production goal of more than 50 billion eggs this year. The official estimate of cotton acreage on July 1 was 24,005,000 acres verifying indications that plantings would be somewhat larger this year than last. A National wheat allotment of 55 million acres for harvest in 1943 was announced last month under provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act. Lamb prices last June were the highest since 1939. June reports indicated that the total output of fruits is likely to be moderately above average, and that prospects for vegetable crops have improved.

The above statistics and information are somewhat in a condensed form, but we hope it will be of benefit to the readers of this column, and remember folks, we must all work and produce in order to win this war.
